ECR 2026, VIENNA / AUSTRIA, MARCH 04 – 08, 2026

To:

From:

Subject: Request for approval and support for participation in the European Congress of Radiology 2026 (ECR 2026), from March 04 - 08, 2026, in Vienna, Austria.

I am requesting approval and financial support to participate in ECR 2026 – RAYS OF KNOWLEDGE. I am convinced that this opportunity will enhance my ability to contribute to the organization by bringing in new perspectives, best practices, innovative methods, and cutting-edge scientific insights.

About ECR

The European Congress of Radiology is the largest radiology congress in Europe and had more than 13,500 professional attendees from 131 countries in 2025. The purpose of this meeting is to inform participants about the state of the art in the field of radiology.

The ECR is hosted by the European Society of Radiology (ESR), a non-profit and apolitical organization. The ESR promotes and coordinates the scientific, intellectual, and professional activities of radiology in Europe. Through its initiatives in education, research, collaboration, and publications—as well as its annual congress, the ECR—the European Society of Radiology advances the field of radiology and strengthens the role of radiologists in healthcare.

Education

ECR 2026 will offer radiologists, radiographers, physicists, and physicians from all specialties the opportunity to broaden and refine their expertise, earn valuable CME credits, and connect with colleagues from around the world. The congress will offer a broad and varied selection of educational courses and scientific sessions.

Scientific and Technical Insights

International experts will present the latest developments; case studies, research results and a wide range of radiological equipment will be presented at this internationally renowned meeting.

I will have the opportunity to engage with industry representatives to explore radiology products, services, and solutions, as well as attend presentations that demonstrate how these can be integrated into our practice to improve operational efficiency and enhance patient care. I hope that by personally attending this meeting, I will gain an expansion of my knowledge as well as an important exchange of experience with professional colleagues.
